The institution does not have any multidisciplinary programs, since the program subject combinations offered for study and syllabus are prescribed by the affiliating University. All students studying for UG courses can select a course from outside their particular discipline in the fifth semester for their choice based course. This provides students some freedom to study a course which is not related to their particular discipline.
16. Academic bank of credits (ABC):
The institution has not registered with the Academic Bank of Credits. The requisite degree of changes as per the NEP will only be implemented by the affiliating University in the next academic year. The institution plans to register with the Academic Bank of Credits from the next academic year. Students will also be made to open their own account with Academic Bank of credits.
17. Skill development:
The institution offers three UG programs which are vocational courses that involve some degree of skill development. The UG courses BSc Physics Model II Applied electronics, B A English Language and Literature Model II Copy Editor and B A History Model II Archeology and Museology are the programs which are more skill based than theory based. Even the regular programs especially science programs help students to develop practical skills and also skills in utilization of laboratory equipments Certificate courses and workshops are organized to provide relevant skills to students. The open course Vocational Zoology offered by the Department of Zoology provides training, knowledge and skills in apiculture, ornamental fish farming and Vermicomposting.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

The institution caters to students from a rural background. The students are more familiar with their mother tongue and find it difficult to follow their lectures entirely in English. Almost all lectures are partially taught in the mother tongue, so that students can follow and understand the topics well. The Affiliating University also allows the students to write their answer scripts in Malayalam. In addition many cultural programs are organized to integrate the richness of Indian traditions in our students. This is useful to make students value our traditions and heritage.

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

The institution has been following an Outcome Based Education system for the past two years. Each program offered to students by the institution has a definite program outcome and each course has a course outcome that is designed for our students and this is published in our institutional website. Students are trained and taught so that they achieve the outcome that was designed for each course of study. This in turn helps the students to achieve the program outcome specified by the University in designing the syllabus.

20.Distance education/online education:

The institution does not have any courses/programs that are entirely taught online. As an outcome of the Covid 19 pandemic many courses were taught online. Class tests, model examinations were also conducted online. PTSA meetings were also conducted online. Students submitted their assignments and conducted seminars using various online platforms. This online education was restricted to short periods when the state was under lockdown. During this academic year all programs are entirely conducted as regular offline programs.

Slow and advanced learners are identified by each department at the initial stages of first year UG classes by conducting an entry level test and a personal interview that assesses their learning levels. This year as a result of online classes during the initial months slow learners were identified by the class wardens of each class on the basis of an online viva and later by basic knowledge tests.

For the slow learners support was provided by conducting additional online classes in addition to the regular classes. Revision of the topics was also done at the end of each semester. Students are provided with question banks and keys, so that they can prepare for the examinations using these notes.

Assignments and seminars are done in each semester. These seminars are presented by students. This improves their presentation skills.

Experiential learning: This was limited to smaller projects which the students were able to complete during the few days that they were permitted to attend college on a regular basis.

Participatory learning: As a result of the pandemic and lockdown most of the classes were conducted on an online mode during the initial months and hence there were few opportunities for participative learning. Some quiz programs were organized as well as online celebration of cultural events. Association activities were also organized using various ICT enabled platforms like zoom and google.

Problem solving methodologies: Project work is included in all the programs taught in the college. This was presented in a problem solving methodology by suggesting a suitable problem related to their field of study to which they found a method to solve and utilized it in their project.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The IQAC gets together at least three times a year to devise ways and means to bring about qualitative changes in the institution. It monitors all the academic, extracurricular and student empowerment initiatives of the institution.

The IQAC itself organized a webinar on IPR awareness, a UG student induction program and a webinar on Gender sensitization and legal awareness

In the beginning of the academic year all the classes were online due to the Covid lockdown till 4 October 2021. For this the IQAC introduced qualitative changes in the institution. These were introduced as a means of monitoring the online classes.

A survey was conducted to know how many students did not have a mobile phone.

A timetable was prepared that involved both live and non live classes for the students.

The IQAC requested all teachers to reach out to students who did not have good net connection by recording and hosting the video of the classes on google classroom.

A weekly report of all classes taken, videos uploaded and other work done was collected and checked by the Principal.

IQAC rose to the occasion to meet all the demands of the pandemic to ensure quality education for all students

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES AND BEST PRACTICES

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

Girls in Kerala are educated on par with boys and this is reflected in our student profile. We have much more girl students than boys. The number of boys are 235 and girls are 340 this academic year.

The number of girl students admitted to the PG programs are also more girls when compared to boys.

All the clubs and cells that are part of the extended profile of our campus have active participation of girls. NSS has 117 girl students compared to 83 boys while NCC has 62 girl student out of a total of 108students.

The department of English has courses on Gender studies as part of their curriculum for MA English.The department of History also has a mandatory course on gender studies as part of their BA History program.

The department of History organized a certificate course for students and teachers on Gender studies. Many eminent speakers were invited as resource persons for the webinars organized for this course.

Among the teachers recruited during the year, majority of them were women.

The HEI has an excellent Ladies Hostel within the campus, a Ladies Waiting room for day scholars and toilets for girls on each floor.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

At St. Mary's College there is a system for effective management of waste.

Solid Waste: Solid waste is usually segregated and collected and disposed separately. Solid food waste is disposed in the bio fish pond. This waste food is used as food for catfish that are kept in the pond.

Liquid Waste: The diluted chemicals and solutions (liquid waste) from the Chemistry laboratory is disposed effectively by running water in sinks to pits which contain charcoal for further treatment

Biomedical waste: For disposing biomedical wastes such as sanitary napkins, the college has installed two eco friendly napkin disposal system. Specimen and plant waste from the laboratory is disposed in compost bed for vermicomposting. Microbiological wastes are disposed in landfills after sterilization.

E waste: This year there was no e-waste generated.

Waste recycling system: It is better to avoid waste generation than find ways to treat it. The HEI believes in this maxim and hence we limit our waste generation to a minimum. Instead of using disposable cups and plates we use steel ones which can be reused. Plastic flex boards are never used as banners but cloth ones are used.

Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management: There are no hazardous wastes.

7.1.8 - Describe the Institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e., tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal socioeconomic and other diversities (within 200 words).

St Mary's college is coeducational and has students from different communities, religions, economic background, different regions of the state. However there are no linguistic differences among the students as the institution is located in a rural area and the students studying are from within the state.

There is no discrimination in the institution with regard to any aspect of the educational process and this provides a sound culture for the students to be likewise. There has never been any incident of exclusion in any activity in the college on the basis of cultural or economic diversities.

All festivals are celebrated with enthusiasm by all the students and is organized with the sanction and encouragement of the Principal and staff council.

Unlike earlier years now students being admitted to the institution are from the northern regions of the state and they are welcomed and encouraged to show case their cultures.

Students from economically weaker families form most of our students strength but they are never made to feel this difference. Any activity like class tours are always conducted including all the students and the expenses for this is borne by the staff and economically well off students of the same class.

7.1.9 - Sensitization of students and employees of the Institution to the constitutional obligations: values, rights, duties and responsibilities of citizens

In order to sensitize the students and employees the institution usually organizes commemorative days like Independence day, Republic day, every year. As a consequence of the pandemic and lockdown there was no regular offline classes for students till October 4th 2021. Hence there were no celebrations on a grand scale involving the whole college as is the usual practice. However on a smaller scale there were some celebrations of Independence day organized online.

Republic day was celebrated offline with a message and National Anthem competition by the NCC unit

The college has an election every year on a date that is fixed by the University for all affiliated colleges. The election is organized to elect students to the college union which is the official body of students that speaks for the student community. The College Union or student council consists of members elected by means of parliamentary election procedure as per the guidelines of Mahatma Gandhi University. This process is extremely important and sensitizes the students regarding their responsibilities as citizens and prepares them for the National democratic exercise of elections. The elections were conducted on 15th March 2022 on the date stipulated by the University for all affiliated colleges

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

SPORTS CAMPUS

Objective: To provide sports facilities for our students and local community.

The Context: Our endeavor was to utilize the land to build a football cum cricket ground,

The Practise: The area at the north end of our campus was earmarked for football cum cricket ground. The height of the hilly top area was decreased by a few feet and then levelled.

Evidence of success: Many matches were organized. Athletics were also organized on this ground for the annual sports day.

GREEN CAMPUS

Objective: To continue with our initiative to make our campus environment friendly and pollution free.

Context: Last year we had begun a program to make the campus environment friendly and pollution free. Our plan is to increase its green cover and provide pathways and tracks.

The Practise: Our long term plan was finalised and a planned landscaping of the property was designed. All these are shown in the Vision 2030 document that was published. The rest of the area is being used for planting more trees and plants. We have completely stopped using disposable plastic items in the campus.

Evidence of Success: The campus has greenery on all sides and since it is on a hilltop is free from pollution. The campus is plastic free and kept clean.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Our vision is to make the college an internationally acclaimed institution with a rural footage. One of the focus areas of our development has been community development. From the time of its inception in 1981 the stakeholders planned this institution as a centre for education of the students who complete their school education in the local rural schools and may find it difficult to study in a college in the town.

Inclusion of the local panchayath residents in all the activities of our college so that it is mutually beneficial for both was a long term project instituted in the college called CARE, SHARE and LEARN. This was a well planned five year project that involved a survey of the houses of the Manarcad panchayath. This was conducted to know the problems faced by the local community. Many programs involving all the clubs, cells, NSS, NCC units and departments of the college was organized to share knowledge and skills. This has enriched the life of the community members as well as the students and faculty members.

Taking this initiative even further the college has planned to build a community development centre for skill development, incubation centre and training centre.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Slow and advanced learners are identified by each department at the initial stages of first year UG classes by conducting an entry level test and a personal interview that assesses their learning levels. This year as a result of online classes during the initial months slow learners were identified by the class wardens of each class on the basis of an online viva and later by basic knowledge tests.

For the slow learners support was provided by conducting additional online classes in addition to the regular classes. Revision of the topics was also done at the end of each semester. Students are provided with question banks and keys, so that they can prepare for the examinations using these notes.

Assignments and seminars are done in each semester. These seminars are presented by students. This improves their presentation skills.

Advanced learners are provided with incentives like being made class and group leaders to take charge of various activities like association activities or conducting classes for other students that provide them with more exposure and knowledge in their subjects of study.

Personality development, Soft skill classes and Career guidance classes were also organized for final year UG and PG students.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Video lectures have become a salient feature now. Video conferencing as a Teaching Learning tool is widely used during the pandemic and post-pandemic days, by which the students were kept at par with the curricular demands set by the University.

Experiential learning: This was limited to smaller projects which the students were able to complete during the few days that they were permitted to attend college on a regular basis.

Participatory learning: As a result of the pandemic and lockdown most of the classes were conducted on an online mode during the initial months and hence there were few opportunities for participative learning. Some quiz programs were organized as well as online celebration of cultural events. Association activities were also organized using various ICT enabled platforms like zoom and google.

Problem solving methodologies: Project work is included in all the programs taught in the college. This was presented in a problem solving methodology by suggesting a suitable problem related to their field of study to which they found a method to solve and utilized it in their project.

Envisaging the greater needs of the HEI a planned development of the infrastructure of the college was instituted.

To comply with the rules and regulations of the University of making the Self Financing programs of the institution entirely separate from the regular aided programs of the college. A separate three storied building was designed and construction

As the library is insufficient for meeting the needs of the students, the management on the suggestion and recommendation of the IQAC decided to construct a library building. This was proposed in the proposal put forward to RUSA. The proposal was sanctioned and at present construction is being completed. Smart classrooms and a seminar hall were all part of the strategic plans for the development of the college. Since all the allocated funds were not received on time the library furniture and interior is yet to be completed.

The institution has also made plans for a much more comprehensive development of the institution with cycle tracks, walkways, gardens and smart classrooms in the Vision 2030 document.

Printed formats are distributed among students for the assessment and summarized results of evaluation are handed over to the teachers for improvement. Some of the teachers collect a personal evaluation from the students they teach in order to learn about weaknesses and strengths regarding their teaching methodology

Evaluation of the institution is also done by the students and parents. The feed backs obtained from all the stakeholders are used for evaluation and improvement.

Suggestions\complaints obtained in the box in front of Principal's office also serve as data for improvement.

Self appraisal forms prepared by the faculty also help in performance assessment and improvement. Internal Quality Assurance Committee (IQAC) ensures quality in all academic and administrative endeavours. Achievers are facilitated in the staff meeting and alumni annual gathering.

Online PTA Meetings conducted by the departments provided occasions for interaction with parents and also for collecting feedback from parents on syllabus, facilities, teaching-learning and allied components. The weekly work report submitted by each teacher regarding the schedule of online classes taken and work done during each class is a self appraisal and means of monitoring the work of the teachers.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The IQAC gets together at least three times a year to devise ways and means to bring about qualitative changes in the institution. It monitors all the academic, extracurricular and student empowerment initiatives of the institution.

The IQAC itself organized a webinar on IPR awareness, a UG student induction program and a webinar on Gender sensitization and legal awareness

In the beginning of the academic year all the classes were online due to the Covid lockdown till 4 October 2021. For this the IQAC introduced qualitative changes in the institution. These were introduced as a means of monitoring the online classes.

A survey was conducted to know how many students did not have a mobile phone.

A timetable was prepared that involved both live and non live classes for the students.

The IQAC requested all teachers to reach out to students who did not have good net connection by recording and hosting the video of the classes on google classroom.

A weekly report of all classes taken, videos uploaded and other work done was collected and checked by the Principal.

IQAC rose to the occasion to meet all the demands of the pandemic to ensure quality education for all students

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES AND BEST PRACTICES

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

Girls in Kerala are educated on par with boys and this is reflected in our student profile. We have much more girl students than boys. The number of boys are 235 and girls are 340this academic year.

The number of girl students admitted to the PG programs are alsomore girls when compared toboys.

All the clubs and cells that are part of the extended profile of our campus have active participation of girls. NSS has 117girl students compared to 83boys while NCC has 62girl student out of a total of 108students.

The department of English has courses on Gender studies as part of their curriculum for MA English.The department of History also has a mandatory course on gender studies as part of their BA History program.

The department of History organized a certificate course for students and teachers on Gender studies. Many eminent speakers were invited as resource persons for the webinars organized for this course.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

At St. Mary's College there is a system for effective management of waste.

Solid Waste: Solid waste is usually segregated and collected and disposed separately. Solid food waste is disposed in the bio fish pond. This waste food is used as food for catfish that are kept in the pond.

Liquid Waste: The diluted chemicals and solutions (liquid waste) from the Chemistry laboratory is disposed effectively by running water in sinks to pits which contain charcoal for further treatment

Biomedical waste: For disposing biomedical wastes such as sanitary napkins, the college has installed two eco friendly napkin disposal system. Specimen and plant waste from the laboratory is disposed in compost bed for vermicomposting. Microbiological wastes are disposed in landfills after sterilization.

E waste: This year there was no e-waste generated.

Waste recycling system: It is better to avoid waste generation than find ways to treat it. The HEI believes in this maxim and hence we limit our waste generation to a minimum. Instead of using disposable cups and plates we use steel ones which can be reused. Plastic flex boards are never used as banners but cloth ones are used.

Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management: There are no hazardous wastes.

St Mary's college is coeducational and has students from different communities, religions, economic background, different regions of the state. However there are no linguistic differences among the students as the institution is located in a rural area and the students studying are from within the state.

There is no discrimination in the institution with regard to any aspect of the educational process and this provides a sound culture for the students to be likewise. There has never been any incident of exclusion in any activity in the college on the basis of cultural or economic diversities.

All festivals are celebrated with enthusiasm by all the students and is organized with the sanction and encouragement of the Principal and staff council.

Unlike earlier years now students being admitted to the institution are from the northern regions of the state and they are welcomed and encouraged to show case their cultures.

Students from economically weaker families form most of our students strength but they are never made to feel this difference. Any activity like class tours are always conducted including all the students and the expenses for this is borne by the staff and economically well off students of the same class.

Republic day was celebrated offline with a message and National Anthem competition by the NCC unit

The college has an election every year on a date that is fixed by the University for all affiliated colleges. The election is organized to elect students to the college union which is the official body of students that speaks for the student community. The College Union or student council consists of members elected by means of parliamentary election procedure as per the guidelines of Mahatma Gandhi University. This process is extremely important and sensitizes the students regarding their responsibilities as citizens and prepares them for the National democratic exercise of elections. The elections were conducted on 15th March 2022 on the date stipulated by the University for all affiliated colleges

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

SPORTS CAMPUS

Objective: To provide sports facilities for our students and local community.

The Context: Our endeavor was to utilize the land to build a football cum cricket ground,

The Practise: The area at the north end of our campus was earmarked for football cum cricket ground. The height of the hilly top area was decreased by a few feet and then levelled.

Evidence of success: Many matches were organized. Athletics were also organized on this ground for the annual sports day.

GREEN CAMPUS

Objective: To continue with our initiative to make our campus environment friendly and pollution free.

Context: Last year we had begun a program to make the campus environment friendly and pollution free. Our plan is to increase its green cover and provide pathways and tracks.

The Practise: Our long term plan was finalised and a planned landscaping of the property was designed. All these are shown in the Vision 2030 document that was published. The rest of the area is being used for planting more trees and plants. We have completely stopped using disposable plastic items in the campus.

Evidence of Success: The campus has greenery on all sides and since it is on a hilltop is free from pollution. The campus is plastic free and kept clean.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Our vision is to make the college an internationally acclaimed institution with a rural footage. One of the focus areas of our development has been community development. From the time of its inception in 1981 the stakeholders planned this institution as a centre for education of the students who complete their school education in the local rural schools and may find it difficult to study in a college in the town.

Inclusion of the local panchayath residents in all the activities of our college so that it is mutually beneficial for both was a long term project instituted in the college called CARE, SHARE and LEARN. This was a well planned five year project that involved a survey of the houses of the Manarcad panchayath. This was conducted to know the problems faced by the local community. Many programs involving all the clubs, cells, NSS, NCC units and departments of the college was organized to share knowledge and skills. This has enriched the life of the community members as well as the students and faculty members.

Taking this initiative even further the college has planned to build a community development centre for skill development, incubation centre and training centre.
